

Spielman joins U.S. drug abuse guideline panel

ROCKVILLE, Md. – Eda

Eda Spielman

Spielman, Psy.D., clinical director of the Jewish Family & Children's Service Center for Early

Relationship Support, was invited to join the federal Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's Center for Substance Abuse Treatment by invitation only stakeholder meeting in Rockville, Md. to shape guidelines for family-centered care programs for mothers in recovery. The purpose of the gathering was to consider how to expand design options for the pregnant and parenting women's substance use disorders treatment programs.

The input of the summit will inform the development of family-centered designs for alternative service in various settings, including residential, intensive outpatient, and outpatient with housing components.